Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 22 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning milder but more unsettled over the weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers becoming mostly confined to western coasts and hills. Elsewhere variable cloud; clearest skies are likely in eastern Scotland where a frost is likely, and southeast England, where a touch of frost is possible, with the odd fog patch.

Saturday:
Many eastern and central areas dry, with variable cloud, temperatures somewhat higher than recently. Western areas may see odd light showers, Northern Ireland and western Scotland turning more persistently wet.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rain spreading southeast on Sunday, reaching SE England by evening. Heavy showers on Monday, then more rain on Tuesday, heaviest in the W/NW. Generally mild, but breezy at times.
